

Plaza House, a project of the Smith Family Foundation, is a men's recovery house located in Oakland California specializing in adults coming directly from primary treatment. We have been active in the Bay Area's recovery community for over twenty five years. Over the years Plaza House has assisted in the long term recovery of over 500 addicts and alcoholics. We take pride in maintaining a safe, supportive and sober environment in which to help build a strong working program of recovery.
